Wine storage

ABOVE LEFT An underground wine cellar is a luxurious solution to storing a large collection of wine in the home. Spiral Cellars can install a wine cellar, capable of stowing 1,870 bottles of wine in optimum conditions, into any home within five days. The cellar is hidden below bespoke trap doors, with a variety of step treads and lighting options. Spiral Cellars start at £14,500.

ABOVE MIDDLE This slimline storage cabinet combines wine storage with display shelves, making it ideal for either the kitchen or the dining room. Available in 20 bespoke paint colours (the colour pictured here is Tuscan Olive), the Chichester free-standing cabinet with wine rack costs £795 from Neptune Classics.

ABOVE RIGHT Edwin Loxley has created a dedicated wine storage room using a mix of walnut and hand-painted cabinetry with impressive results. Features include pull-out wine racks, wire baskets for fresh fruit, and a refrigerated unit for chilled beverages. Bespoke furniture from Edwin Loxley starts at around £20,000.
